Monday Night Hilarity.

The peace and quiet of the city in the vicinity of Fourth and Hart streets was disturbed Monday night by a clash between two ladies of that neighborhood, Mrs. Lou Peaker and Mrs. Raridan, in which Mr. Lou Wenzel was an interested but not participating factor. Much bad language was used and it is hinted that a revolver was flashed, but nobody was hurt. The police will investigate.

The classic precincts of Eighth street and Emerson Heights were also disturbed Monday by an ominous war cloud. Mr. and Mrs. Ammi Armstrong became disturbed over a difference of opinion as to whether the former should or should not stay in the house. Mrs. A. armed herself with an iron poker according to Mr. A's story, and Mandolin Club have rented the Board Mr. Armstrong started in with an ax of Trade Rooms, which they will occu- to make cordwood of his helpmest, according to Mrs. A's story, but hostili--Misses Carrie Dye and Carrie Mil- ties ceased without slaughter. TERMINAL CHANGES.

A Transfer of the Big Property Takes Today an important change takes place in the affairs of the United Terminal Railway Company. The property has been operated by T. D. Dale, Receiver of the Terminal Company, but today the holdings will be turned over to the purchasers, Newman Erb and Charles F. Street, representing the bond-holders.

Mr. Dale will continue to be manager under the new regime.

This change is only a temporary proceeding, as it is expected that a new company will be formed immediately to take over the property, and when that is accomplished arrangements will be made for its substantial betterment. A great increase in track facilities is especially contemplated; and a very considerable amount of money will be spent in enhancing things generally.

First National Organization.

At their banking house Tuesday afternoon the stockholders elected the following directors:
